

Contents

Special issue edited by FERNANDO TULA MOLINA

ARTICLES

- Science, respect for nature, and human well-being • 297
Hugh LACEY
- The complexity of the normative language employed for technically evaluating technological artefacts • 329
Diego LAWLER
- Artifacts and texts
Some aporias in the “artifact hermeneutics” of Dennett • 345
Diego PARENTE
- Bionics: efficacy versus efficiency
in natural and artificial technology • 359
Mónica MIRALLES & Gustavo GIULIANO
- Technology, development and democracy:
towards an alternative artificiality • 371
Gustavo GIULIANO
- Neoliberal evaluation in the university and the social responsibility of researchers • 379
Marcos BARBOSA DE OLIVEIRA
- Time is money*: optimization, identity,
and the labor culture in the desired society • 389
Fernando TULA MOLINA
- Technological regulation and social values:
analysis of the case of pharmaceuticals • 409
Federico VASEN
- Re-thinking common goods: a socio-technological analysis of the construction and regulation of common goods • 427
Ariel VERCELLI & Hernán THOMAS